Applicant's have traversed the election of specie requirement. However, since the various species have mutually exclusive characteristics the species requirement is deemed proper. To search the several species in a single application would be a burden on the Office. The restriction requirement is deemed proper and is hereby made Final.

Claims 1-16 and 23-27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. It is wholly unclear how the clamps are attached to the gimbal of Figure 14. Figure 14 does not show any shaft for attachment to a clamp. It is unclear what the relationship is between "clip 24" and clamp 2. The description does not set forth this relationship.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 23, 24, 26, and 27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Jackson.

In Jackson 14 is a clamping means and 44 is a radially projecting rotation spindle.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Jackson in view of Zera.

Zera teaches the use of ribs on a clamping jaw.

To provide ribs on the clamping jaws of Jackson would have been obvious for one skilled in the art at the time the invention was made in view of the disclosure of Zera. One of ordinary skill in the art would have been motivated to do this in order to strengthen the clamp.

Claims 17-22 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in the reply filed on 11/14/05 and 9/19/05.
